Survivor Outreach

The Making Strides committee and the American Cancer Society welcome all those who have been touched by breast cancer. We invite Breast Cancer Survivors and their families to join the Survivorship community by stopping by the Survivor & Family Tent.

The Survivor & Family Tent is a place to honor and support each other. Wherever you may be on your cancer journey, you are invited to participate. The tent offers a quiet place to reflect on your own journey or to share your journey with others. Together with other survivors and their families you will realize you are not alone.

The American Cancer Society volunteers will be there to offer assistance to you and your family and provide information on programs and patient services offered by the American Cancer Society.

Together we can

Offer Hope

Make a Difference

Provide Strength

Together

Together we can make a difference. Make an Angel of Hope, Angel of Honor or an Angel of Courage for a newly diagnosed breast cancer patient to be given out by The Breast Care Center at Concord Hospital. Each angel will be accompanied by a personal note of compassion, hope and encouragement from the survivor who made the angel. May each recipient of an Angel feel the hope and strength being offered by someone who has traveled the road they are now facing.

The Making Strides Planning Committee has an important philosophy that guides us through our efforts. We believe in getting everything possible donated, so that all the fundraising efforts of the Making Strides participants, can go directly to the cause of fighting breast cancer. Thank you again to all of our In Kind Sponsors!

Funds raised at Making Strides benefit critical breast cancer research, patient services and early detection programs of The American Cancer Society.

Thank you to all the Volunteer Photographers who share their time and talents with us:
