

Finish the fight against breast cancer.

Make strides to finish the fight against breast cancer.

The American Cancer Society Making Strides Against Breast Cancer walk is the largest network of breast cancer awareness events in the nation, uniting more than 300 communities to finish the fight.

Making Strides walkers turn awareness into action by helping raise more than $60 million for the American Cancer Society each year to save more lives from breast cancer. Today, we're leading the way in transforming breast cancer from deadly to treatable and from treatable to preventable. The progress we are making together is nothing short of remarkable. But we need your help to finish the fight.

Your support means more lives saved.

With every dollar raised, the American Cancer Society is helping save more lives from breast cancer.

Access to Mammograms

We're helping ensure access to mammograms for women who need them so more lives are saved.

Making an impact in the fight against breast cancer

Breast cancer death rates have decreased by 34 percent since 1989, contributing to more than 203,000 lives saved.

The American Cancer Society has played a role in nearly every major breast cancer research breakthrough in recent history, including:

- Establishing mammography as the standard for breast cancer screening
- Discovering lifesaving treatments, such as Herceptin and Tamoxifen
- Discovering genes that cause breast cancer
- Confirming the knowledge that genetics, body weight, lack of exercise, and alcohol use can increase breast cancer risk by 34 percent

The dollars you raise make a difference.

- $20 Could help provide one night of lodging for a cancer patient and caregiver traveling far away from home for treatment
- $50 Could help provide seven rides to and from treatment
- $100 Could help guide four women facing breast cancer through every step of their journey
